

BIG CROP OF NEW LAW SUITS.

LEGITIMATE FRUITS OF DELAY IN PARK PROCEEDINGS.

Penn Valley Property Owners Will Sue City for Damages for Withholding Benefits and Tying Up Their Property.

The dilatory policy of the city in the matter of the Penn Valley and other park propositions is about to bear its legitimate fruit in a batch of lawsuits by Penn Valley property owners, who propose to sue the city for damages on account of the delay in withholding the money for their property taken by the city. During the pendency of the Penn Valley proceedings these property owners have been deprived of all but the bare occupancy of their property. They are now getting restive. They see no prospect of getting anything for another two years, and in the meantime they cannot sell their property or even improve it. Hundreds of dollars' worth of property has been tied up in this manner without the shadow of a reason, and now the owners are going to sue the city for damages for putting them to the law without any reason, and then withholding their property.

PROOF OF THE PUDDING.

County Court Judges Will Taste the Jail Fare Furnished by Marshal Chiles This Week.

Marshal Chiles is after the three judges of the county court, and the prediction is freely made that before Saturday the ordinary jail food. They have promised to come, however, and see how it is that the marshal is running the jail for the county. The county court will drop in on the marshal to-morrow and sample the jail bill of fare.

REFUSED TO CONFISCATE.

Judge Henry Would Not Order the Destruction of the Property of the Poolrooms.

City Attorney Burnham yesterday applied to Judge Henry for an order of confiscation of the property of the downtown poolrooms. The judge refused to issue the order, on the ground that the supreme court had decided that the confiscation and destruction of property was unconstitutional.

LOST HIS MARGIN.

And Now A. L. Casparis Sues the Merchants Commission Company for Damages.

Another suit growing out of the recent sensational rise in wheat was filed in the circuit court yesterday. A. L. Casparis bought 5,000 bushels of wheat from the W. A. Michaels Commission Company. If the price declined to 90 cents in Chicago, the company was to sell the wheat at $1.00, the company was to sell the wheat at $1.00, the company was to sell the wheat at $1.00.

Film-Flamers in Hard Lines.

Frank Foster and Mike Foundation, the two crooks arrested the police Wednesday for fraudulently securing $5 from Miss Mamie Cella, the cashier at Smith's restaurant, were arraigned yesterday in justice before Judge Sullivan. They were placed at $200 in each case, and the film-flamers Miss Emma Anderson, of 1014 Independence avenue, and Miss Annie Roach, of 702 East Fifth street, out of $5 each.

Devo Will Stay in Jail.

Henry Devo, who is suspected of being one of the murderers of Policeman Jacobson and who was charged on a charge of robbing the store of Louis Emmerich, at 1003 West Seventeenth street, was arraigned for the robbery before Judge Sullivan yesterday and his bond placed at $1,000 for his appearance September 8.

Is not the result of accident—it is the accomplishment of a design. It is not the growth of a day—it is the realization of years of preparatory labor and thought. The truly great pianos are few and but represent the truly great piano builders—men who have spent their lives perfecting the instruments that bear their names. Notable among these is the Vose & Sons. This is a popular priced piano, but it is of a quality that places it in favorable competition with pianos of the very first rank. For sale on monthly payments of $10.
